CHC43415 CERTIFICATE IV IN LEISURE AND HEALTH

Change your life to help change others.

Break through society's barriers and provide quality-of-life opportunities to those in need.

The CHC43415 Certificate IV in Leisure and Health will provide you with the skills of workers participating in the design, implementation and evaluation of leisure, health activities and programs for clients in one or more sector areas. Workers may be in residential facilities and/or in community agencies and day centres, completing specialised tasks and functions in relation to leisure and health. While workers are responsible for their own outputs, work is carried out under direct or indirect supervision within defined organisation guidelines.

OVERVIEW

By studying the CHC43415 Certificate IV in Leisure and Health, you will learn how to provide quality-of-life opportunities for individuals who experience barriers to participation in recreation and leisure. Your clients may range from people with disabilities, older people, youth, children, families, corporate organisations, those in respite, and those with variable education levels and diverse backgrounds.

Our course has been designed with your career path in mind. With 120 hours of practical placement, we ensure that graduates have real workplace experience upon completion, increasing their employment prospects. You'll gain the ability to challenge and enhance the psychological, social, emotional, and physical wellbeing of those in your community and will have the confidence needed to seek out new opportunities that utilise your skills.

This qualification is nationally recognised under the Australian Qualification Framework (AQF). Dependent upon completion of relevant work experience, eligible students will be able to apply for full membership with Diversional Therapy Australia (DTA).
